Worksheet #1: The Law of Consequent Production

1. Select one organizational system from the following list or identify another of your choosing:

   - Transportation system in your city
   - Student support system at your college or university
   - Professional development/training system in your organization
   - A conference hotel that hosts groups up to 5,000 guests

2. What does the system purport to produce?

   Example: A University is designed to produce graduates who are educated and capable of contributing to the economic development of their communities and society.

3. What does the system actually produce?

   Example: Graduates representing a range of capabilities, varying according to grades earned, capability to contribute to the workplace, and a range of social skills.
